No original plan was to go to the Circle Flea Market Ce-ration -- I didn't feel like rushing about & so I didn't arrive at the Golf Course until about 11 A.M. -- much too late to go anywhere before lunch. I got the jelly/juice ready for the final jelly-making phase / process. HLRP cooked dinner -- I took with me a large quantity of Swiss Chard, which I was put in charge of cooking. I steamed the stems for about 4 minutes and the leaves for about two -- that was that. Lunch was very good: baked ham; zucchini & tomato & onion stew; fried potatoes; Swiss Chard. Following lunch, I "boiled down" the Choke-cherry juice & put in only $\frac{1}{2}$ the quantity of sugar called for in the standard currant recipe for jelly.
I made three pints of jelly -- one for SRP, one for DWP, one for H.A.B.

We went to the Circle ^{Alamy} Flea Market at about 2 P.M. -- many vendors had left & most of the throng had departed. Naturally, we found some bargains: 5 ounce bottle of Entire perfume for $5.99; a new leather belt for $3.00; two new stereo records for $2.00 each (one of Marilyn Horne, live at La Scala; one of never-before-recorded music by Charles Ives);

DWP made a tape of these two new records & gave me the tape; he will keep the records.
